

Biography Kurt Langbein

Kurt Langbein, born 1953, studies of sociology in Vienna. From 1979 to 1989 documentary filmer and magazine journalist at the Austrian Broadcasting Corporation ORF, from 1989 to 1992 head of domestic department at the austrian news magazine "profil", since 1992 as the managing director of „Langbein & Partner Media“ producer and director of several documentary films and tv-reports such as „Project Ballhausplatz“ (2023), „The Farmer and the Hipster“ (2022), „Eating Differently - The Experiment“ (2020), „Utopia Revisited“ (2018), „Land Grabbing“ (2015), „Miracle of Healing“ (2012).

Author of a number of non-fiction books
(e.g. Bitter Pills 1983, Course book health 1986, Prolonging Life - At What Cost? 1994, The Medicine Cartel – Seven Deadly Sins of the Health Industry 2003, Medicine - A Classified Matter 2009, Six Feet Above. On Living with Cancer 2012, White Book of Healing 2014, Land Grabbing 2015).

Awards

2018	Dr. Karl Renner Journalism Prize for his life's work
2014	Golden Romy for „Hubert von Goisern – Brenna tuats schon lang“
2013	Axel-Corti-Prize for excellent achievement in radio and television Golden Romy as best tv-documentary for „Miracle of Healing“
2011	Prälat Leopold Ungar Prize for „Of the Purpose of Giving – The Evolution of Altruism“